A Tribute to Old Joe By: Jim Burns

We were deeply saddened to learn of the passing of Joe Palbicki this past June 14th. Joe worked for B.J. Mulcahy from November of 1960 until his retirement in August of 1988. Joe was a “pumping legend” that I personally owe a great debt of gratitude. He taught me much about our industry; in fact he taught many of us a lot about our industry. A mutual friend said it best, “Joe always had the answer, and it was usually the right answer!” Joe was always smiling, or telling a joke or a funny story. He lit up a room every time he entered. My favorite memory consists of Joe, Red Smith and Jim Worley and their laugh-a-thon’s. When the three of them were together in the same room, there were always plenty of laughs. Between them 100 years of experience as well. Experience we still miss today. I had the privilege of following in Joe’s large footsteps. I now know from personal experience that it is a lot easier to follow a legend than a schmuck. Joe was a legend in this industry. Throughout the last 10+ years people have constantly asked if I’ve heard from old Joe. We did on occasion, but now regret that we won’t anymore.

The “Polish Purveyor of Pumps” has moved on.

We will miss you Joe.

Thank you for all you did to make B.J. Mulcahy the company it is today!
